

HOME HAPPENINGS

—Do unto others as they merit.

—It is a wise precaution to fill coal sheds early.

—Regularly monthly meeting of council next Monday night.

—Don't lose sight of the Canfield fair dates—Sept. 5, 10, 11 and 12.

—Some of the macadam roads in this locality are badly in need of repairs.

—There is a fairly good apple crop in this locality but cider mills will not be kept so busy as last season.

—The Diehl family reunion was held Thursday on the Canfield fair grounds and was largely attended and much enjoyed.

—Don't sit tight with news items that come to your notice. Let the Dispatch have them so that they may be passed along.

—Frank Campbell, employed on the Canfield section of the Niles & Lisbon railroad, fell the other day and broke his left collar bone.

—Members of the Christian Sunday school enjoyed an outing and picnic last week Thursday at the farm of E. R. Lynn, northeast of the village.

—Wednesday evening a large number of friends gave attorney J. A. Dickson and bride a "delightful" serenade at the home of D. C. Dickson on Court street.

—Quite a number of Canfield Odd Fellows attended the funeral of Simon Foss in West Austintown last Sunday. The deceased was among the oldest members of Canfield lodge.

—A box social will be held at the residence of B. J. Calvin, west of the village, Friday evening, Sept. 5, under the auspices of the Canfield corner band. Everybody invited. Take a box and help the band.

—Canfield's Board of Trade should get busy and secure a new industry or two. If the proper effort is made this can be done. And it is just possible that everybody making a pull for it an electric line to Youngstown could be secured. Why not get busy?

—Some idea of the splendid facilities of the Dispatch for turning out work may be gained from the fact that a daily newspaper for the county teachers has been issued this week without any fuss or feathers in connection with the regular weekly grind.

—During the severe electrical storm about one o'clock last Friday afternoon lightning struck the flag-pole on the town hall and scattered splinters in all directions. The current followed the ridge iron on the building to the spouting and ground, apparently doing no damage to the structure.

—While E. E. Hull of Canfield was driving his automobile in Youngstown last Saturday evening a small boy ran in front of the machine and was knocked down and slightly injured. Mr. Hull had his machine under perfect control and witnesses say he was in no way to blame for the accident.

—On account of the heavy rain storm last Friday the Methodist and Presbyterian Sunday school picnics which were to have been held in Southern and Idora parks had to be declared off. A union picnic in Southern park next Wednesday has been decided upon by committees from both churches.

—The Mahoning County Improvement Association will meet in the Canfield town hall next Monday evening. James M. McKay, president of the Boardman Township Farmers' Club, will be present and deliver an address. The meeting promises to be of unusual interest and it is hoped there will be a large attendance.

—This is the way Newell of the Columbiana Ledger put it: The appointment of C. C. Fowler, editor of The Mahoning Dispatch, as postmaster at the geographical center, has been confirmed by the senate. If Charley makes as good a postmaster as he does a Dispatch, and if he should not, there will be no kick coming.

—The Mahoning county fair week after next promises to be a fine exhibition of the best farm products that can be raised anywhere. The people take pride in the fair and that is the reason it ranks among the best in the state. This year's event will be up to record and will even surpass previous exhibitions if everybody will cooperate. Give the fair a boost.

—Another well is to be drilled at once by the Altino Gas Co. on the farm of J. Callahan on which it already has a fine well. The strong well on the Dickson farm is only a few rods from where the new well is to be put down. It is likely two other wells will be drilled before winter sets in. The company will shortly receive a large consignment of pipe and the work of laying mains about town will be completed as soon as possible.

—The Presbyterian and Methodist Sunday schools will hold a union picnic in Southern park next Wednesday. The committee in charge has announced that the public, old and young, are cordially invited. If the weather is unfavorable, the picnic will be held anyhow in some building in the village. Conveyances will be furnished for all not having a way to go to the park. If either W. J. Dickson or A. B. Williams are notified by next Monday.

—John Minor died last Friday night at the home of W. W. Corl in this county and was born in this county. He was 78 years of age. Most of his life was spent in Ellsworth. He is survived by one son, one daughter and one sister. Funeral services Monday afternoon were held at the home of Rev. F. H. Hill in the M. Church. Services at the grave in the Ellsworth cemetery were in charge of Canfield lodge of Odd Fellows of which the deceased was a member.

—There was some mixing of names in giving the officers of the Toot family reunion and correction is here made. Officers for the ensuing year are: President, Lewis Cook of Alliance; vice-president, John Toot of Lordstown; secretary, Mrs. Fred Toot of Canfield; corresponding secretary, Alma Thomas of Lisbon; committee on resolutions, Mrs. Lee Canfield, Salem, Mrs. J. B. Cox, Canfield, Mrs. C. F. Zimmerman, Salem; committee on arrangements, James Cox of Jackson, Mich., Isaiah Pauls, Calla, Curtis Toot, Greenford.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

—It is quite different to project and complete great works.

—There is much of interest in the advertising columns of the Dispatch today.

—The annual reunion of the Dickson family was held Thursday at the home of Allen Dickson in Ellsworth township. As usual, there was a large attendance.

—Geo. J. Windle, recommended for postmaster at Sebring by Congressman Whitacre, has been confirmed by the senate and will take charge of the office in the course of a week or two. He succeeds H. M. Larkins whose term expired last January.

—A. S. Firster, a prominent citizen of Farmington, fell against a large circular saw in his mill Monday afternoon and was so badly cut that death came almost instantly. Deceased was 60 years of age. His wife and three children survive him.

—A movement is soon to be started to pension the school teachers of this county who have served long and faithfully and are not possessed of enough of this world's goods to make them comfortable in old age. The matter is to be presented to Representative Cooper and Dier who will be requested to draft a bill and present it to the next legislature.

CHURCH CHIMES

Reformed Church—There will be services in Paradise church at New Buffalo next Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock and in the church north of Canfield at 5 p. m. I. N. Burger, pastor.

AUSTINTOWN

August 27—W. S. May has sold his farm to a Youngstown real estate company for $200 an acre. The farm will be platted in five-acre tracts and offered for sale.

Rumors are rife that the old Leadville and Tippecanoe shafts are to be reopened. The fact that the old railroad switch at Perkins which ran to both these mines is being fixed up makes it certain that something is going to be done soon. It is just possible that the old track is to be utilized as an interurban line. That would certainly make real estate in the locality boom.

Charles Ohl is working in Youngstown this week.

Ross O'Rourke, the contractor, has two rollers at work on the road leading east from here and it is hoped to have repairs completed and the road opened before the Canfield fair.

Frank Klingeman is building a house for Lucy Reed on the Hoffer road in the southeastern part of this township.

Many lots are being sold in this township and it is certain that soon a trolley line will be built from Youngstown out this way.

Mrs. Miller of Cleveland, who came here to visit her sister, Mrs. John McAleer, was taken suddenly sick and died this evening. Funeral services will be held Friday and burial will be in Youngstown.

This section will send the usual big crowd to the Canfield fair week after next.

Youngstown Elks will have a big corn roast and outing Thursday on the W. S. Anderson farm west of West Austintown.

KNAUFVILLE

Aug. 27—Fred Gibbons and family of Salem spent Sunday with W. W. Hendricks.

Herbert Knauf and family, Monroe Hull and daughter Hazel and Jerome Hull were in Cleveland Sunday to see Mrs. Monroe Hull who is under an operation in a hospital there. Mrs. Hull is getting along as well as can be expected. The trip was made in Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knauf and daughter, Miss Nellie, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Knauf and daughter Grace were in Youngstown Tuesday.

Misses Jessie and Cora Lepply of Hadley, Pa., who visited relatives here for a few days, returned home Tuesday.

Frank Knauf is having lightning rods placed on his buildings.

Miss Ethel Knauf called at Mrs. Sarah Esterly's of Toot's Corners Tuesday evening.

Miss Fern Manchester is spending a few days with friends in Salem.

Preaching at the Ridge church next Sunday at 2:15 o'clock and preaching at 3:15 p. m. by Rev. R. E. Pugh of Canfield.

Automobile Service.

My automobile is in service between Canfield and Youngstown and the public patronage is solicited. Special trips made anywhere. Arrangements may be made in advance for service during the Canfield fair. Paul Waters, Canfield.

MISS MOUNT'S TALK ON READING

There are two essentials to be striven for in the teaching of reading, the mechanical training and the pupil's power to assimilate the thought. A good method is necessary. But the test of a method is the pupil's power to attack new matter.

The first lessons in reading should be given from the blackboard to avoid memorizing, to develop self confidence and to further the correlation of language and reading. These lessons may consist of from four to eight sentences. Let the child help make these sentences for his own lesson, thus throwing the responsibility upon the child as far as possible. In this way the correct method of presentation is assured—the thought, the oral expression and then the written word.

A good reader reads without hesitation which may be caused by defective eyesight, poor preparation, inattention during the study period, or perhaps the teacher's own lack of preparation. Correct attitudes and articulation may be insured by exercise.

In all things throw the child upon his own responsibility, but do not allow him to correct his fellows.

DR. D. C. MURPHY.

Miss Mount was followed by Dr. D. C. Murphy of Slippery Rock, Pa., whose subject was "The Teacher's Qualifications."

Dr. Murphy has had a wide experience as teacher, author and lecturer and held his audience from the start. It is impossible he said, to define a teacher. The most important part of the teacher is indegenable. After the close of school the impression left upon the mind of the child will tell the story of the teacher's success or failure.

No teacher need be a Sampson in strength, a Solomon in wisdom or an angel in goodness but must possess something of each.

There was never a time, he said, when teaching was a more important occupation than at present. Teachers are better paid and have better opportunities than ever before.

In enumerating the qualifications of the successful teacher, Dr. Murphy placed scholarship as the first requisite.

A teacher must know her subject before she is fitted to instruct her pupils. Occasionally, however, you may find teachers who teach more than they know while a great many others know more than they can teach.

Another important qualification of the teacher is tact. A teacher who does not possess tact is doomed to certain failure. Tact in teaching is just as important as tact in business or any other occupation.

Other essentials to success mentioned by Dr. Murphy were a good, flexible disposition and confidence in one's self. No great thing was ever accomplished by a man who lacked confidence.

Henry Clay, Columbus, Gen. Grant and all other great men of history did the things that made them great because they had confidence that they could do them.

Dr. Murphy's talk was interspersed with stories and anecdotes of a humorous nature which kept the audience in a good humor from start to finish.

Paint

Every gallon costs a painter's day's work.

Poor paint, more gallons; good paint, less gallons.

Every extra gallon adds to your job its price and the painter's day's work; not far from $5 a gallon.

There are a dozen good paints and hundreds of poor ones. Devote one of the dozen. The chances are: there isn't another in this town.
